Smith Family Papers, 1917-1956, bulk 1942-1946

Introduction

Processed by: Harry Flint, Mark Freedman, Gretchen Koerpel, 2005-2006

Total Volume: 7 cubic feet (21 mss boxes, one large flat box)

Provenance: The Smith Family Papers were donated to the Voorheesville Public Library in June 2004, as a gift of the Voorheesville American Legion Post 1493. The papers were originally stored in eight flat boxes and kept by Voorheesville resident Elizabeth “Lil” Smith, who made it her project to keep in personal touch with every serviceman or woman from Voorheesville/New Scotland during World War II. Lil Smith and her husband Frank L. Smith Sr. were well known in the area as owners of the Voorheesville Tydol service station and proprietors of Smitty’s Tavern. In addition to the World War II documents, Lil saved Frank Smith’s World War I diary and a nearly complete set of correspondence between Lil and her younger son, James A. Smith, documenting his military service in the 1950’s.

Conservation: Material has been re-housed in acid-free folders and boxes. Correspondence and publications have been interleaved with acid-free paper. Newspapers and clippings have been photocopied on acid-free paper. Photographs and facsimiles have been placed in polyester sleeves and re-housed in acid-free enclosures. Oversized material has been flattened, photocopied, interleaved, and removed to an oversize acid-free box.

Scope and Content Note, Series Description

Scope and Content Note: The Smith Family Papers comprise approximately 7 cubic feet of materials documenting Voorheesville/New Scotland servicemen and women's service. There is a diary from World War I (1914-1919), an extensive collection from World War II (1940-1945), and a smaller collection from 1954-1956. The papers are arranged into four series and several sub-series within.

Series I, Frank L. Smith Sr. Papers (1917-1919), includes a diary of Frank L. Smith Sr. (1898-1956), World War I veteran (New York, Pvt. BTRY C 77 Field ARTY) which describes his combat experience in France (1918-1919). Also of interest is a 1917 pamphlet Extracts from Manual of Physical Training for Use in the United States Army. Frank L. Smith Sr. was the husband of Lil Smith.

Series II, Elizabeth "Lil" Smith Papers (1942-1946, bulk 1949-1955), holds the bulk (6 cubic feet) of the collection and is composed of hundreds of letters, v-mails, holiday cards, maps, pamphlets, newspapers, and ephemera from Voorheesville/New Scotland soldiers to Lil Smith (1904-1991) depicting their World War II and postwar experiences (1942-1955). Detailed address books, lists, biographical sheets, and photograph albums created by Lil Smith provide vital information about the servicemen. In addition, Lil's News Sheets informed soldiers about local news, which included births, deaths, weddings, honors, and addresses of friends and neighbors in service.

Series III, James A. Smith Papers (1954-1956), consists of a nearly complete set of daily correspondence between James Smith (DOB-) and his mother, Lil Smith, during James' military service in the Pacific. There are also letters from James' younger sister Dorothy ("Dot") and other relatives. Correspondence from friends and neighbors document the social life of Voorheesville in the 1950's.

Series IV, Miscellaneous memorabilia and ephemera (1933, c.1940-1950), includes Lil Smith's day book, place cards, and napkins from weddings Lil and Frank attended and other items. Also included are miscellaneous bills and receipts addressed to Frank L. Smith Sr. or James Smith.
